MISSION AND INSTALLATION CONTRACTING COMMAND

Headquartered at Joint Base San Antonio-Fort Sam Houston, Texas, the MICC is a one-star command made up of about 1,500 military and civilian members assigned to two contracting support brigades, two field directorate offices, 30 contracting offices and nine battalions that provide contracting support to the Army enterprise.

The MICC delivers ready, decisive and synchronized business solutions to the warfighter by acquiring equipment, supplies and services vital to the U.S. Army mission and well-being of Soldiers and their families. The command also supports the Army's contingency and wartime missions by rapidly deploying trained and ready contingency contracting Soldiers around the world to procure goods and services in austere environments. Contracting brigades and battalions are strategically aligned to provide operational contract support to their respective corps or divisions when deployed.

MICC-contracted services and supplies touch virtually every Soldier in the Army – from facilities support services, commercial and institutional building construction, and administrative and general management consulting services to wired consulting services to wired telecommunication and engineering services, contracted food services, advertising and transition services. The MICC ensures America's Soldiers and their families have they need during and after their military service.

The U.S. Army Mission and Installation Contracting Command is a major subordinate command of the U.S. Army Contracting Command. MICC Soldiers, civilians and contractors support Soldiers and their families in the continental United States and Puerto Rico by delivering ready, decisive and synchronized business solutions and contracting support to the Army enterprise.

ACC designated the MICC as its lead for installation readiness to provide the acquisition insights to ensure Army installations are capable of supporting current and evolving readiness and power projection requirements.

Contracting Soldiers from across the command play a vital operational role in support of combatant commanders. MICC Soldiers and civilians serve as force providers in contingency contracting for Operation Freedom's Sentinel, Operation Inherent Resolve, Atlantic Resolve and the NATO-led Resolute Support as well as multiple contingencies across the globe.

The MICC's primary supported activities include the U.S. Army Installation Management Command, U.S. Army Forces Command, U.S. Army Training and Doctrine Command, U.S. Army North, U.S. Army Test and Evaluation Command, U.S. Army Reserve Command, U.S. Army Military District of Washington, U.S. Army Medical Command, U.S. Army Futures Command and United States Military Academy at West Point.
