The Reserve Recruiting System (RRS) provides District Recruiting Commands, Army areas, readiness regions, Army commands, Reserve Centers, Army Reserve schools, and State Adjutant Generals with a management tool for recruiting and retention of Reserve personnel. Tools are provided for managers to maintain the Individual Ready Reserve end strength as mission and manning requirements fluctuate. These requirements are met by offering training and promotion opportunities for enlisting or reenlisting in the Army Reserve. The system processes both on-line and batch, and the principle users of the system are the Department of Defense, Army G-1, the US Army Recruiting Command, Army Reserve Commands, State Adjutant Generals, District Recruiting Commands, and station recruiters.

PII collected includes personal, contact, employment, education, and military record data.

d. Why is the PII collected and/or what is the intended use of the PII? (e.g., verification, identification, authentication, data matching, mission-related use, administrative use)

Verification and data matching to manage accession and retention of Army Reserve personnel. Administrative use of individual information to determine eligibility to enlist or reenlist in the Army Reserve, and to process related actions.

e. Do individuals have the opportunity to object to the collection of their PII? Yes No

(1) If "Yes," describe the method by which individuals can object to the collection of PII.

(2) If "No," state the reason why individuals cannot object to the collection of PII.

Individuals are not involved in the data collection process. However, Soldiers implicitly consent to capture and use of their PII at the time of employment in the Army, at which time they are provided a Privacy Advisory.

f. Do individuals have the opportunity to consent to the specific uses of their PII? Yes No

(1) If "Yes," describe the method by which individuals can give or withhold their consent.

(2) If "No," state the reason why individuals cannot give or withhold their consent.

Individuals are not involved in the data collection process. However, Soldiers implicitly consent to capture and use of their PII at the time of employment in the Army, at which time they are provided a Privacy Advisory.

g. When an individual is asked to provide PII, a Privacy Act Statement (PAS) and/or a Privacy Advisory must be provided. (Check as appropriate and provide the actual wording.)

- Privacy Act Statement Privacy Advisory Not Applicable

Individuals are not involved in the data collection process. However, Soldiers implicitly consent to capture and use of their PII at the time of employment in the Army, at which time they are provided a Privacy Advisory.

HRC contracts contain language addressing the applicable FAR privacy clauses and acknowledge the sensitivity of PII and describe the importance of protecting and maintaining the confidentiality and security of an individual's PII in the associated task orders. The contractual language keys on training as a fundamental element in creating awareness and understanding of PII and why it is important to control and safeguard. The language also stresses securing PII material and equipment housing PII at the end of a work day. Contractual language directs and requires each contract employee in support of this system to have a valid Secret clearance prior to working on the program. Contracts specifically state that contractor personnel shall adhere to the Privacy Act, Title 5 of the U.S. Code, Section 552A and applicable DOD, Army, and HRC rules and regulations.
