

ARMY
FUTURES COMMAND

MG John M. Epperly

Maj. Gen. John M. Epperly is responsible for synchronizing Army National Guard priorities, policy guidance and resources within Army Futures Command and aligning Active Guard and Reserve efforts to support Army modernization.

Epperly is from Radford, Virginia, and commissioned as an armor officer in the Army upon graduation from the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1989; he additionally holds an MBA in finance from Drexel University. John has served in the United States, Korea, Kuwait and Iraq, completing two combat tours in the Arabian Gulf Region, and was most recently the Commanding General of the 29th Infantry Division at Fort Belvoir. As a Citizen-Soldier, Epperly also has more than two decades of leadership experience in commercial information technology.