MISSION:

USASAC leads the AMC Security Assistance Enterprise; develops and manages security assistance programs and foreign military sales cases to build partner capacity, support COCOM engagement strategies and strengthen U.S. Global partnerships.

VISION:

USASAC Remain the Dept. of Defense's gold standard Security Assistance provider - expanding partner capacity, strategic readiness and trust.

USASAC is headquartered in Northern Alabama with offices in Pennsylvania, Washington D.C., North Carolina and Saudi Arabia. Its employees are spread out all over the globe, supporting U.S. foreign policy and impacting every continent in the world.

USASAC: The Army's Face to the World

USASAC works with more than 140 allies and partners around the world. The command strengthens relationships with allies and partners by providing U.S. Army materiel (e.g., weapon systems, equipment and supplies) and services (e.g., training, facilities construction) that promote interoperability and develop capabilities to ensure we will not fight alone.

This is done through the security assistance and Foreign Military Sales process, and we need employees with strong communication, planning, project management and fiscal management skills. Foreign language skills and an interest in logistics (the procurement, distribution, maintenance and replacement of materiel) may make USASAC a great career choice!

Since its formation, USASAC has supported major military operations and helped spearhead international peacekeeping and humanitarian efforts worldwide.

COMMON SERIES / JOB OPPORTUNITIES

0301 – Miscellaneous Administration and Program Series. Administrative work (and here the term administrative is used broadly to refer to positions on both the program or mission and the administrative or management services side of an organization) requires knowledge of the principles, concepts, policies, and objectives applicable to a program or administrative area. Although administrative work may not require education in specialized fields, it does involve skills (e.g., analytical, research, writing, and judgment) typically demonstrated by substantial, responsible experience the equivalent of a college level education.

0346 – Logistics Management Specialist. This series covers positions concerned with directing, developing, or performing logistics management operations that involve planning, coordinating, or evaluating the logistical actions required to support a specified mission, weapons system, or other designated program. The work involves: (1) identifying the specific requirements for money, manpower, materiel, facilities, and services needed to support the program; and (2) correlating those requirements with program plans to assure that the needed support is provided at the right time and place. Logistics work requires: (1) knowledge of agency program planning, funding, and management information systems; (2) broad knowledge of the organization and functions of activities involved in providing logistical support.

0340 - Program Manager. Positions in this series exercise of delegated authority to carry out program functions and services constitutes the essential purpose for the establishment and continuing existence of an agency. The focus of a program may be on providing products and services to the public, State and local government, private industry, foreign countries, or Federal agencies. Most programs have an impact or effect which is external to the administering agency.

0560 – Budget Analyst. This series covers positions positions that involve analytical, technical, and administrative duties in one or more phases of the budget administration process (budget formulation and justification, presentation and enactment, or execution). Budget analysts are responsible for a segment of an organization's budget, programs, and/or organizational structure that is less than the full scope of budgetary operations for the organizational component and level served. This title also applies to positions that develop budgetary guidance
