

DEPUTY DIRECTOR

MS. Pamela D. Callicutt

Ms. Pamela Callicutt is the Deputy Director for the Army Office of Small Business Programs. In this position, she is responsible for providing leadership and implementing policy and oversight in regard to new and complex concepts, theories and statutes governing the participation of small businesses. Ms. Callicutt served as the Acting Director for the Army Office of Small Business Programs from October 2018 through August 2019. In this position, she served as the Army's lead for small business policy, goals and procedures, and she represented the Secretary of the Army at congressional committee and subcommittee hearings on small business, historically black colleges and universities/minority institutions (HBCU/MI), and other small business matters. Ms. Callicutt serves as the focal point in responding to industrial, congressional, and individual inquiries on small business, HBCU/MI, economic utilization and other business matters. She represents the Army in interagency communication with the Small Business Administration, the Office of Federal Procurement Policy, the Minority Business Development Agency (Department of Commerce), and other agencies and presidential commissions.

Ms. Callicutt is an Air Force veteran with more than 40 years of defense acquisition experience. Prior to joining Army OSBP, she completed a 10-month graduate program in National Security and Resource Strategy at the National Defense University's Eisenhower School.
