SABOT-X Privacy Policy

Last Updated: 9/11/2024

Introduction

Welcome to SABOT-X, a government-owned software application. Your privacy is important to us. This privacy policy explains how SABOT-X handles your information. The core principle of this policy is that SABOT-X does not collect, store, or share any personal data.

Data Collection

SABOT-X does not collect any personal data from its users. When you use SABOT-X, you can be assured that no personally identifiable information (such as names, addresses, email addresses, phone numbers, etc.) is collected, stored, or processed by the application.

Data Usage

Since SABOT-X does not collect any personal data, there is no data usage related to your personal information. The application functions independently of user data and is designed to operate without requiring any personal information.

Data Sharing

SABOT-X does not share any user data with third parties because no user data is collected. Your privacy is fully protected, as the application is built to operate without accessing or utilizing your personal information.

Third-Party Services

SABOT-X does not use any third-party services that would require or lead to the collection or sharing of personal data. The application is entirely self-contained and does not integrate with external platforms, analytics, or services that track or collect user information.

Changes to This Privacy Policy

SABOT-X may update this privacy policy from time to time. If any changes are made, the updated policy will be posted on this page. We encourage you to review this policy periodically to stay informed about how we protect your privacy.

Contact Us

If you have any questions or concerns about this privacy policy, please contact us at mackenzie.a.azbell.mil@army.mil or Robert.g.schutz.civ@army.mil

Conclusion

Your privacy is our priority. SABOT-X is committed to ensuring that your personal data remains private and secure. By using SABOT-X, you agree to the terms outlined in this privacy policy.