CMF 17 Progression Chart

CMF17- The Cyber CMF, maintains dominance in cyberspace and the electromagnetic spectrum. It also upholds a solid foundation of the operational characteristics of the Army, emphasizing the Army's movement and maneuver warfighting function and special forces characteristics. To operate within the cyber mission force, Cyber Soldiers must thoroughly understand unique technical training and oversight requirements. Several factors contribute to developing cyber operations and electromagnetic warfare specialists, including Joint and Army doctrine, Army-wide cyber mission forces manning and echelon requirements, institutional training, and joint certification courses and curricula. Additionally, it encompasses the development, assessment, employment, and fielding of current and future cyberspace and electromagnetic systems.
