U.S. ARMY XTECH|OVERWATCH

DRIVE INNOVATION AND SUPPORT THE ARMY'S MISSION THROUGH THE xTECHOVERWATCH COMPETITION

The Army xTech Program is seeking innovative technology solutions from U.S. small businesses to advance autonomous unmanned systems (UAV, UGV, and sensor networks) for critical defense capabilities. The competition is awarding up to $1M in cash prizes and the Army Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) Program is awarding up to $40M in Direct to Phase II SBIR awards.

KEY BENEFITS

DIRECT ACCESS AND EXPOSURE TO ARMY AND DOD STAKEHOLDERS	TRANSPARENT AND DETAILED FEEDBACK FROM MULTI-DISCIPLINARY EXPERTS	EARN CASH PRIZES & THE OPPORTUNITY TO SUBMIT A DIRECT TO PHASE II SBIR PROPOSAL	PARTICIPATE IN A COLLIDER EVENT AND THE ARMY HUMAN MACHINE INTEGRATION (HMI) SUMMIT

The U.S. Army is interested in innovative autonomous systems capable of conducting overwatch and terrain-shaping tasks by leveraging advanced AI, robotics, secure networking, and real-time data processing. For more details on key technical areas, please refer to the Request for Information (RFI).

The xTechOverwatch competition will accept submissions until 5 p.m. ET on May 21, 2025. For real-time updates, and to learn more about the competition, follow us on social media and visit our website at www.xtech.army.mil.
