101st Airborne Division (Air Assault) Large-Scale, Long-Range Air Assault

FORT CAMPBELL, KY– Beginning the afternoon of Wednesday, May. 6, the 101st Airborne Division (Air Assault) will conduct a major training event spanning various locations in Mississippi and Louisiana. Elements of the Division will conduct operations at Vicksburg-Tallulah Regional Airport from May 6-11.

This exercise is designed to assess the division's ability to conduct large-scale, long-range air assault operations in conjunction with training scenarios that will test their communication, logistical resupply and tactical abilities. All military training will take place on military installations or local airfields, but residents may see or hear an increased helicopter presence.

Members of the media are invited to attend, opportunities include b-roll and photos of operations, aircrafts and spokesperson interview with Brig. Gen. Travis McIntosh, Deputy Commander (Support), 101st Airborne Division (Air Assault).
