

Chapter 7

Reporting Codes

7-1. Personnel and strength reporting codes

The following reporting codes will be used in personnel and strength accounting documents to reflect the warrant officer's status when primary or duty MOS are inappropriate.

- a. Reporting code 001A, Unqualified in Authorized Warrant Officer MOS. Used in place of a PMOS to report warrant officers who cannot be classified appropriately in any MOS contained in this publication. Warrant officers classified in this reporting code will be considered surplus until they qualify for classification in an authorized warrant officer MOS or are discharged from the Active Army, or USAR.
- b. Reporting code 002A, Patient. Used in place of a duty MOS to report current duty status of warrant officers who have been relieved from duty because of illness, mental or physical incapacitation, or are in hospitalized or non-hospitalized convalescent status. This code will be used to report warrant officers being retained on Active duty pending discharge or retirement for medical reasons when the circumstances prevent employment in a productive status.
- c. Reporting code 003A, Student. Used in place of a duty MOS to report current duty status of a warrant officer who is pursuing a course of instruction at an Army service school or civilian institution or other organized training facility of comparable type, on a full-time basis.
- d. Reporting code 004A, Duties unassigned or in transit. Used in place of a duty MOS to report absence of present duty assignment for a warrant officer who has been given a specific principal duty whether assigned or attached to a unit, or enroute to join a unit.

7-2. Award in place of MOS

Except the classification of warrant officers in reporting code 001A pending qualification in PMOS, reporting codes will not be used in either personnel or position classification.
