

23 December 2025

Army Medicine Teammates,

CW5 Deanna Hughes, CSM John Dobbins, and I extend our warmest greetings to the Soldiers, Civilians, and Families of Army Medicine. As we reflect on 2025 and look forward to 2026, we are grateful for your unwavering commitment to serve our Nation as medical professionals in the strongest Army in the world.

To our Soldiers and Civilians, you provide the best medical support to our Warfighters and their Families, here at home and across the world. Our Army trusts that Army Medicine will be with them in their time of need. You reinforce that trust every day.

To our Families, you are the strength of our Soldiers. Thank you for sharing your loved ones with the Army. Your support keeps our Army rolling along.

To our teammates deployed around the world, away from family this holiday season, your sacrifice, courage, and dedication to the mission is the embodiment of our Nation's faith in the American Soldier.

This has been a remarkable year of transformation for our Army and Army Medicine. This holiday season, we encourage you to reflect on all you have accomplished and your valuable role as a member of the Army Medicine team.

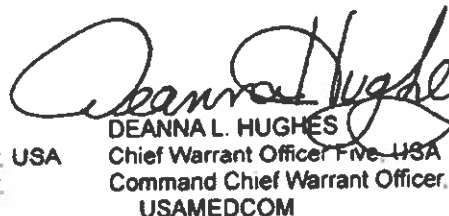

Support each other by checking in on each other every day. Rest, recharge, and enjoy the company of your friends and loved ones. May you enjoy with peace, reflect with gratitude, and hope with optimism for the year ahead.

From our families to yours, happy holidays!
