Fact Sheet

https://www.army.mil/acc

U.S. ARMY

U.S. ARMY CONTRACTING COMMAND

ABOUT US

Headquartered at Redstone Arsenal, Alabama, the United States Army Contracting Command is a major subordinate command of the U.S. Army Materiel Command. The U.S. Army Contracting Command has one subordinate one-star command—the Mission and Installation Contracting Command—eight contracting support brigades regionally aligned with Corps and Army Service Commands, and four major contracting centers that provide support to the Training and Transformation Command, Portfolio Acquisition Executives, and the U.S. Army Materiel Command's Life Cycle Management Commands.

As the Army's principal buying agent, the U.S. Army Contracting Command supports Army readiness and modernization by utilizing best practices and expert-level oversight to provide warfighters with premier contracting support.

The command accomplishes its global operational missions with a professional workforce of Soldiers, Army Civilians, local nationals, and contractors at more than 100 locations worldwide. The sun never sets on the U.S. Army Contracting Command.

CORE COMPETENCIES

- Contracting
- Foreign Military Sales
- Acquisition
- Procurement
- Operations
- Quality assurance
- Life cycle management

CAPABILITIES AND MISSION EXECUTION

The U.S. Army Contracting Command is a critical enabler in the Army's continuing effort to compete globally to fight and win the Nation's wars as a member of the Joint team. Executing contract actions directly supports Army modernization and force structure capabilities.

The U.S. Army Contracting Command's key supported units include the U.S. Army Materiel Command and the Training and Transformation Command. In fiscal 2026, the U.S. Army Contracting Command awarded $103 billion in over 100,000 contract actions, of which $13 billion was awarded to small business, $21.5 billion in Foreign Military Sales to allied partner nations, and $6 billion to non-traditional Department of War businesses via Other Transaction Agreement awards and executed $5.5 billion toward the Presidential Drawdown in support of the Ukraine operations. The Command obligates 79 percent of the Army contract dollars and 17 percent of all federal contract spend.

4505 Martin Road Redstone Arsenal, AL 35898 usarmy.redstone.acc.mbx.accpao@army.mil

Current as of Oct. 2026

Fact Sheet
https://www.army.mil/acc

U.S. ARMY

U.S. ARMY CONTRACTING COMMAND

The U.S. Army Contracting Command's Contracting Support Brigades rapidly deploy Soldiers worldwide to procure critical goods and services in austere environments. Strategically aligned with Combatant Commanders and corps, these units executed $2.1 billion in FY25 obligations, including over $570 million for border security operations. Across roughly 180 missions in more than 50 countries, the command delivers rapid deployment, contract planning, surveillance, and closeout to sustain deployed forces.

PORTFOLIO ACQUISITION EXECUTIVE ALIGNMENTS

Under the modernized acquisition structure, the Command aligns with the Army's Portfolio Acquisition Executive, establishing clear command relationships to streamline procurement and maximize buying power across these core portfolios:

- Portfolio Acquisition Executive Fires (Primary Alignment: Redstone Arsenal)
- Portfolio Acquisition Executive Maneuver Air (Primary Alignment: Redstone Arsenal)
- Portfolio Acquisition Executive Command, Control, and Communications / Counter Command and Control (Primary Alignment: Aberdeen Proving Ground)
- Portfolio Acquisition Executive Layered Protection and Chemical, Biological, Radiological, and Nuclear Defense (Primary Alignment: Aberdeen Proving Ground)
- Portfolio Acquisition Executive Agile Sustainment and Ammunition (Primary Alignment: Rock Island Arsenal)
- Portfolio Acquisition Executive Maneuver Ground (Primary Alignment: Detroit Arsenal)

PRIMARY LOCATIONS

- Headquarters and United States Army Contracting Command-Redstone Arsenal – Redstone Arsenal, Alabama
- United States Army Contracting Command-Aberdeen Proving Ground – Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland (with the Orlando Division, Florida, as a subordinate organization)
- United States Army Contracting Command-Rock Island Arsenal – Rock Island, Illinois (with the New Jersey Division at Picatinny Arsenal, New Jersey, as a subordinate organization)
- United States Army Contracting Command-Detroit Arsenal – Detroit Arsenal, Warren, Michigan
- Mission and Installation Contracting Command – Joint Base San Antonio-Fort Sam Houston, Texas

CONTRACTING BRIGADES

- 408th Contracting Support Brigade – Shaw Air Force Base, South Carolina and Camp Arifjan, Kuwait. The brigade provides operational contracting support to U.S. Army Central as the lead contract service throughout Southwest Asia.
- 409th Contracting Support Brigade – Sembach Kaserne, Germany. The brigade provides the full range of contracting support throughout U.S. Army Europe.
- 410th Contracting Support Brigade – Joint Base San Antonio-Fort Sam Houston, Texas. The brigade plans and executes contingency contracting support for Army and joint operations throughout the Western Hemisphere Command.
- 411th Contracting Support Brigade – Camp Humphreys, Korea. The brigade provides operational contracting support to the U.S. Indo-Pacific Command and supports U.S. Forces Korea.
- 413th Contracting Support Brigade – Fort Shafter, Hawaii. The brigade provides the full range of contracting support throughout United States Army Pacific mission.
- 414th Contracting Support Brigade – Vicenza, Italy. The brigade provides operational contracting support to U.S. Army Southern European Task Force, Africa.
- 418th Contracting Support Brigade – Fort Hood, Texas. The brigade supports the Western Hemisphere Command and III Corps.
- 419th Contracting Support Brigade – Fort Bragg, North Carolina. The brigade provides contracting support to the Western Hemisphere Command and XVIII Corps.

4505 Martin Road Redstone Arsenal, AL 35898 usarmy.redstone.acc.mbx.accpao@army.mil Current as of Oct. 2026