U.S. Army Futures and Autonomous Systems Command (FASCOM)
Fort Eustis, VA

Ms. Kimberly Newton
Deputy to the Commanding General, FASCOM

Ms. Kimberly Newton previously served as the Acting Director of Integration at U.S. Army Futures Command (AFC) where she was responsible for synchronizing the strategy, concepts, requirements and resources to create integrated solutions addressing critical prioritized capability gaps.

She previously served as the Deputy Division Chief for the Regionally Aligned Readiness and Modernization Model (ReARMM) within the Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff, G-3/5/7, Headquarters, Department of the Army, Division Chief for Requirements Integration at U.S. Army Forces Command (FORSCOM). Since joining the Department of the Army as a civilian in 2009, Ms. Newton has held a series of key leadership positions within FORSCOM, including Chief of Functional Capabilities, Chief of Military Table of Organization and Equipment (MTOE) Documentation, Readiness Integrator, Strategic Fusion Analyst, and Mobilization Policy Integrator. Throughout these assignments, she played a critical role in shaping Army mobilization policy, capability development, and acquisition processes to ensure the Warfighter's perspective was represented.

Ms. Newton holds a Master of Science in Instructional Design and Technology from Texas A&M University and both a Master's and Bachelor's degree in Music Education from the University of Kansas. Her awards and decorations include the Superior Civilian Service Medal (two awards), the Meritorious Civilian Service Medal, the Commander's Award for Civilian Service (two awards), and the Achievement Medal for Civilian Service (four awards). She is a graduate of the TRADOC Fellows Program, the Army SES Leadership Excellence and Development Program, and the Data Driven Leadership Executive Program. Ms. Newton's professional memberships include the Association of the United States Army, the National Defense Industrial Association, Women in Defense, and the National Museum of the United States Army.

She and her husband, William (Cory), have been married for 12 years and are the proud parents of two children. In her free time, she enjoys reading, baking, crafting, and spending time at the beach.