

EOD- OPERATION ALICORN FURY PHOTO CAPTIONS

161222-PA067-002 Specialist Seth Hamilton, an explosive ordnance disposal specialist with the 741st EOD Company helps fellow team member Specialist Walter Pablo don protective equipment December 22 at the Warrior Skills Training Center at Camp Buehring, Kuwait. EOD team members ran through various scenarios involving the most current tactics, techniques, and procedures (Photo by US Army Sgt. Kelly R. Gary, 29th Infantry Division Public Affairs Office.)

161222-PA067-003 Specialist Seth Hamilton, an explosive ordnance disposal specialist with the 741st EOD Company helps fellow team member Specialist Walter Pablo don protective equipment December 22 at the Warrior Skills Training Center at Camp Buehring, Kuwait. EOD team members ran through various scenarios involving the most current tactics, techniques, and procedures (Photo by US Army Sgt. Kelly R. Gary, 29th Infantry Division Public Affairs Office.)

161222-PA067-004 Specialist Walter Pablo, an explosive ordnance disposal specialist with the 741st EOD Company, sets clears a route in the first part of his scenario 22 December at the Warrior Skills Training Center at Camp Buehring, Kuwait. EOD team members ran through various scenarios involving the most current tactics, techniques, and procedures (Photo by US Army Sgt. Kelly R. Gary, 29th Infantry Division Public Affairs Office.)

161222-PA067-006 Specialist Walter Pablo, an explosive ordnance disposal specialist with the 741st EOD Company, checks a tunnel entrance for indications that an explosive device is present 22 December at the Warrior Skills Training Center at Camp Buehring, Kuwait. EOD team members ran through various scenarios involving the most current tactics, techniques, and procedures (Photo by US Army Sgt. Kelly R. Gary, 29th Infantry Division Public Affairs Office.)