UNITED STATES ARMY GARRISON YONGSAN - CASEY POLICY LETTER # 1

MEMORANDUM FOR SEE DISTRIBUTION

SUBJECT: Employee Recognition

1. REFERENCES:

- a. Army Regulations 672-20, Incentive Awards, dated 1 April 2014.
- b. IMCOM Regulation 672-10, Incentive Awards Program For Military and Civilian Personnel, dated 23 June 2009.

2. GENERAL: Customer service is the cornerstone of what the Garrison provides in supporting units, organizations, Service Members, and their Families. Customer service at USAG Yongsan - Casey relies on positive, professional, polite people and workplace. While quality customer service is a simple concept provided consistently, it is also a standard that requires constant vigilance on leaders. The workplace environment supports and promotes a level of service reassuring our customers are genuinely valued. One of the most critical aspects is implementing a fair, consistent, and thorough employee recognition and appreciation program, particularly services that are delivered above and beyond what is expected.

3. COMMANDER'S INTENT: To recognize Garrison employees for outstanding work they do for Soldiers, Families, and Civilians on this installation. There are hundreds of dedicated teammates serving the USAG Yongsan - Casey community every day who rarely are recognized for what they do. Too often, all they hear about is the negative. We want to personally recognize and thank them, but, as well as, their own Family having a sense of pride their mom, dad, or significant other made a difference. Along these same lines, we want the Garrison, as a team, to consistently work to know each other better. Employees need to identify themselves as the Garrison, as well as, crucial members of their directorate. We want a team building concept in the installation.

SUBJECT: Employee Recognition

4. EXECUTION: Garrison directors submit an annual employee recognition plan as part of their Civilian Evaluation Support Form, DA Form 7222-1 to address how each of the various recognitions listed below is leveraged to recognize employees within respective directorates.

5. RECOGNITION: The program will be proactive and consistent in the use of various forms of recognition contained in AR 672-20, "Incentive Award". The type of recognition will be as important as the format or venue used to present the recognition and honor the recipient. Ceremonies are the standard in an appropriate venue with co-workers, family members, significant others, or friends. In addition to AR 672-20, the following criteria will be considered to provide the recognition our members deserve:

a. Length of Service Awards: Supervisors track years of service of each civilian employee supervised to ensure they are recognized in an appropriate ceremony (i.e. certificate and medal/pin presented).

b. Unit Awards Program: Directors submit nominations for select awards listed in enclosure #1 that apply to respective functional areas. In the event the nominee is not selected, an appropriate local award is presented to recognize the individual as the USAG-Yongsan selectee.

c. Evaluation: As part of the annual evaluation process, every USAG Yongsan - Casey employee is considered for a performance award to include cash award, time off award, step increase, and/or honorary award.

d. End of Tour: Upon departing from USAG Yongsan - Casey, employees may be recognized and presented the appropriate honorary award.

e. Employee of the Quarter: Every Directorate nominates an Employee of the Quarter for competition and present nominee with appropriate directorate level recognition.

f. IMCOM "Hero of the Week" Recognition: Bi-weekly a USAG Yongsan - Casey employee is nominated using the format in enclosure #2 for IMCOM "Hero of the Week" recognition according to the schedule in enclosure #3. POC is DHR within the Garrison to collect, submit, and schedule presentations during IMCOM/USAG Yongsan - Casey Command and Staff Meetings held every other Monday.
